

DAYTON AT TERMA ALTA.

Sturges and Pitzer Speak to a Great Audience—Dayton Receives a Splendid Ovation.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.
TERMA ALTA, W. VA., Oct. 28.—The Republican meeting at this place yesterday afternoon was one of the most enthusiastic and well attended ever held in the county. The town was lively as early as 10 a. m. with country folk and visitors who had come to hear the Hon. George C. Sturges, Hon. U. S. G. Pitzer and Hon. A. G. Dayton. It was not known until the morning of the day announced that Dayton would be here, but he was immediately advertised, and the news flew like wild-fire.

Hon. George Sturges opened the meeting at 1:30 p. m. with a plain, manly and earnest address. He used the plainest of illustrations to show why Wilson should be defeated this fall, and if any were present who were "on the fence," Mr. Sturges' sound and undeniable logic knocked them off on the Republican side. Hon. U. S. G. Pitzer followed Mr. Sturges, and the brilliant young orator from the Eastern Panhandle was welcomed with shouts of enthusiasm. He immediately opened the ball by a full statement of Mr. Wilson's doctrine, and then placed his own side by side. The applause was deafening in its intensity. Hon. A. G. Dayton was expected on the 3:30 express, and when it steamed into town the platform was crowded with his admiring friends. The Zeller Concert band was present and escorted the gentleman to the opera house. When he entered the door the audience as one man rose to its feet and gave him a magnificent ovation.

Tired and worn, dusty and travel-stained, Mr. Dayton took the floor. His first words were: "God bless old Preston," which set the large audience fairly wild. The gentleman appeared to be greatly fatigued, and looked it, but nevertheless he spoke nearly an hour, each word seeming to cost him an effort, so tired was he. The building fairly shook with the shouts of approbation that greeted his every sentence. Altogether, it was one of the greatest ovations ever tendered a political nominee in this town, and is but an endorsement of the coming fact that old Preston, the banner Republican county of West Virginia, instead of her usual 1,600 majority, will this year roll up from 1,800 to 2,000 majority.

DAYTON'S CHANCES

For Election Very Bright—How the Situation Appears.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.
KINGWOOD, W. VA., Oct. 23.—The political situation in Wilson's district is claimed by both parties, with the chances favoring the cause of protection, prosperity and patriotism, championed by Alston Gordon Dayton. A look over the field covered by the Second congressional district reveals the strength of both candidates. A change of a little over 500 votes will defeat Wilson. This is only a change of one vote in every hundred votes cast for him in 1892. The result hinges on a very narrow margin to begin with, but when we are told that in Hampshire county alone over 600 Democrats have denounced their own camp of "party perjury and dishonor," and have joined the Populists, and that 400 of them are "dead set" against Wilson and cannot be "persuaded" back, and that the coal miners in Mineral, Tucker and Marion are not supporting Wilson as they did in 1892, it is easy to see where Dayton's majority is to come from and where Wilson's majority of 1,000 is to go glimmering. If there is not change enough in Hampshire and with the miners a few lumbermen and wool growers will make good any figures lacking.

While Wilson is riding around over the state he misrepresents in "palaces on wheels," Dayton is touching elbows with the miner, the lumberman and the wool grower pleading the cause of protection. In other words, Dayton is making votes, while Wilson is girdling his state chasing rainbows with John T. McGraw.

HON. WARREN MILLER

And Judge Schilling Address a Large Audience—Roane County Republicans All Right.

Special Correspondence of the Intelligencer.
TRIPLET, ROANE COUNTY, W. VA., Oct. 25.—Hon. Warren Miller, the next congressman from the Fourth district, addressed the Tom Reed Tariff League Club here to-day. It was the largest and most enthusiastic crowd of people ever gathered together for a like purpose at this place. There were many ladies in attendance.

Mr. Miller was listened to with great interest as he told in a plain and forcible way the effect of a ruinous free trade party in power in this country. In conclusion Mr. Miller said: "Gentlemen, has any farmer here been benefited by the change?" Though several Democrats were present, no one was able to say "yes."

Honorable J. G. Schilling, of Spencer, was next introduced. In his characteristic way he caused continuous laughter in showing up the weakness of the Democratic party in trying to make believe that an era of prosperity is now at hand. The farmers of the county are surely giving considerable thought to the great political questions that confront them and if appearances count anything, Roane county will show a great Republican gain in the coming election.

At the conclusion of the speaking Capt. Newton spying Allen Miller, a prosperous farmer, in the crowd, stopped to the front of the platform and announced to that gentleman who, two years ago, he (Newton) had heard make an offer of $50 per head to J. V. Bartlett for his lot of sheep, that he, Newton, now had permission from Mr. Bartlett, since the passage of the Wilson bill, to offer a better lot of sheep for $150 per head. Mr. Miller replied that he did not want them at any price.

WILSON IN MORGAN.

The Great Free Trader Invades a Republican Stronghold and Meets a Chilly Reception.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.
BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. VA., Oct. 28.—On Friday evening William L. Wilson arrived in Berkeley and was not met at the train by a single Democrat. Last night he attended an ox roast at Unger's store, sixteen miles south of here, the first demonstration of the kind ever given in the history of the county. This proves the great uneasiness manifested by the leaders. They must need have something to bring the people together, and it is not at all inappropriate, for it is high time the Democrats were giving the people at least one taste of beef in a year, after having deprived so many of our people of the prime necessities of life to which they had become used under thirty years of Republican protection and prosperity.

Last night the day's work was concluded by a meeting in the court house here. J. M. Kilgore, of Virginia, was the first speaker. His main effort was the telling of a big snake story. Wm. L. Wilson followed. His speech was a mere rehearsal of what he has said in his London, Charles-Town, and, in fact, all the speeches he has been making all over the district. He has nothing new to say. The most one can make out of it is the old Lowery parrot cry, "The tariff is a tax."

The crowd consisted of about 100 women and children, about the same number of Republicans and about seventy-five Democrats. Very little applause was given and that chiefly by three or four of the leaders. Outside the court house were about 300 Republicans yelling for Dayton, and when Wilson made his appearance after his speech there was loud cheering for Dayton which lasted until after Mr. Wilson reached the hotel. It is estimated by those who know that Wilson won at least twenty votes for the Republicans by his speech. The people of Morgan county have their eyes open this year, and instead of letting Wilson pull free wool over their eyes this time, they will roll up 500 or 600 majority for America's friend, Dayton.

DISAPPOINTED DEMOCRATS.

The Disbandment of the Wilson Hippodrome Gives Them a Backset.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

BEKINGTON, W. VA., Oct. 28.—There was a general understanding that the "Wilson hippodrome," under the management of Colonel John T. McGraw, was to show here Friday afternoon, in consequence of which the faithful to the extent of about 200 congregated to meet it, but from causes unknown it failed to appear, to the great disgust of the Democratic constituency.

The Democrats here are growing desperate and would welcome anything that would distract the attention of the people of this section, who are chiefly miners, lumbermen and farmers, from Wilson's record in the sugar-cured Congress, where he said that he could not afford to represent the Second district, his mission was so large. His failing to appear was a sore disappointment to them, as they were depending upon the glitter and display with which Sir William is conducting his campaign to bring the deserters back, of which there are a large number here.

It is unnecessary to say that the different method pursued by the Democrats and Republicans in the campaign are so apparent that "he who runs may read." The Democrats are depending upon carrying this district with a "whoop and hurrah" to keep the people from realizing the position the country is in. To show the desperation to which the Democrats are driven I quote an extract from Wade Hampton's speech at the Beverly barbeque, where it is understood that the crowd was made up chiefly of ex-confederates who were members of the Laurel brigade, of which William L. Wilson was also a member. The significance of the remark is apparent and needs no comments. Here are his words:

"Comrades of the Laurel brigade, I implore you not to turn down William L. Wilson, who, as a boy, was so true to the southern confederacy, and as a man to the Democratic party for an unknown man."

Mr. Dayton's campaign is an earnest and dignified appeal to the good sense of the people, and not a series of hippodrome performances, appeals to sectional prejudice and barbeques.

GOV. MCCORKLE IN MERCER.

He Gives William L. Wilson a Snap at Bluefield—Col. Browning Makes a Republican Speech.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

BLUEFIELD, W. VA., Oct. 27.—Gov. McCorkle was advertised for Bluefield Friday night and a division of time was asked by Republicans for Hon. James S. Browning, of Pocahontas, Virginia, a prominent coal operator. He spoke to an enthusiastic audience of one thousand voters. Col. Browning made an able and eloquent argument for protection to our coal interests, reading McCorkle's speech before the ways and means committee at Washington in support of the Republican position. The governor evaded a discussion of the coal tariff, except to claim that the Democrats were opposed to free coal, the President and Mr. Wilson to the contrary notwithstanding. He advocated the income tax, yet lauded Hill, its great opponent. The rest of his speech consisted of glittering generalities. Mercer county Republicans are aroused and will rebuke the party of free coal on November 6.

MCKINLEY AND WILSON ABROAD.

In 1890 William McKinley was burned in effigy in the English manufacturing city of Sheffield; but in 1894 William L. Wilson was winned and drawn in London because he is the author of a free trade tariff bill. These are significant facts.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

Piedmont, W. VA., Oct. 26.—Mr. Atkins addressed a large crowd at the opera house to-night. Assistant Secretary of the Navy McAdoo spoke to Democrats on the street.

DANFORD'S CAMPAIGN.

Addressing Workmen in His District. Speeches Saturday Night.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

STEEDENVILLE, O., Oct. 28.—Hon. Lorenzo Danford, the sturdy, eloquent and grand patriot, who is the Republican candidate for Congress in this district, closed his campaign in this county last night amid much enthusiasm. He spoke to the steel workers at Mingo Junction, and those brawny men cheered his speech heartily. They want a revival of business as they have had enough idleness since the inception of the Democratic administration. A special train on the W. & L. E. railroad took about 500 Republicans from this city down to the steel-making town and the hall did not accommodate all who wanted to hear the gallant old soldier. Speeches were also made by Hon. John M. Cook and J. F. Daton.

Captain Danford has also spoken to the tin mill workers at Irondale, another industry that was threatened by Prof. Wilson. He has addressed the pottery and terra cotta workmen at Toronto and the miners at Dillonvale. He is popular with the miners, who do not want free coal, and was attorney for a few of those miners who were indicted by the United States court for riot during the mining troubles. His services were given free of charge. He spoke to the people of this city Monday night, and pointed out to the business men the path to pursue politically if they wanted better times. At several points in this county he addressed large crowds of farmers and showed them who is responsible for 50-cent wheat, 15-cent wool, and for sheep selling anywhere from 17 to 80 cents.

A Successful Contest.

Special Dispatch to the Intelligencer.

CAMERON, W. VA., Oct. 28.—Friday night there was witnessed here in the M. E. church the close of one of the most spirited, as well as perhaps the most successful, contests that ever took place in the state. Some three months ago it was decided that in order to raise funds to pay a debt on the new M. E. church to have a contest. Ingle Malone, one of the most popular Baltimore & Ohio men on the main line, and S. H. Woodruff, the hustling and vigilant salesman of the Speidel Grocery Company, of Wheeling, were selected as the two champions who were to open the hearts and the somewhat emaciated purses of the populace.

They went to work with a will. Mr. Woodruff came out ahead, with the magnificent sum of $1,055.60, followed very closely by Mr. Malone with $982.76. The committee, in view of the splendid work done, decided that each contestant should have a $125 parlor set.

are through Canada and the New England States. The trip is to Ottawa, Canada, for a view of Chaudiere Falls as they appear when the crown of the ice-king is upon them, then through Lachine Rapids and on to Montreal to participate in the Winter Carnival which is held there. Thence we journey to Quebec and take a glance at its heights and battle grounds, then speed away to Montmorenci Falls, Lake St. John, and the river of Death, through a region of great scenic beauty. Our trip is thereafter southward to the Green Mountains of Vermont, by lakes, rivers, falls, farm-lands, villages, and thence on into the heart of the White Mountains. Here curiosity, awe, grandeur and beauty are in company joining hands and holding a wondrous region in their embrace; we travel to the summit of Mount Washington and look away to the sea, and around upon an army of mountains seared with vast chasms, garlanded with heavy forests, silvered with running streams, jeweled with sapphire lakes, wonder breaking upon wonder,

From the White Mountains our tour is to Maine, and thence to Boston and down the Old Colony Road by Woodworth's Home, where he wrote "The Old Oaken Bucket," and Daniel Webster's Farm, to the seaside haunts of Massachusetts and Rhode Island. We visit Plymouth also, where the Pilgrim Fathers anchored, view the monumental spots where they lie, repeat the old stories and enjoy a review of the historic associations of places and individuals which distinguished New England annals.
